A Business Continuity Approach To Tackling Large Scale Disasters The South Beach Hotel 26 April 2017

World Continuity Congress

The World Continuity Congress (WCC) is an annual event that brings forth regional and international business continuity (BC), crisis management, IT disaster recovery (ITDRP) and BC auditors together.

This uniquely specialised event attracts an average of 150 to 200 delegates from industries such as finance, government, telecommunications and oil & gas, among others.

Industry practitioners would share with them trends and industry best practices. Panel sessions also allows these speakers to interact with the delegates and discuss on pertinent issues that affect their industry.

What Can You Look Forward To

Exciting Up-To-Date Topics

As is the tradition at the World Continuity Congress, we bring forth new exciting topics yearly with a line up of top notch speakers in the industry. 2017 is no different. The topic at hand would centre around how BCM is managed when large scale disasters hit you directly or otherwise.

New Location

Every year, the congress looks for an exciting location that's close to a public transport system and close to a premier shopping complex, allowing both our local and overseas delegates ease of access to enjoy both the conference and Singapore. For 2017, we are looking to house the conference at the swanky new 5* South Beach Hotel.

Specialised Industry Afternoons

2 tracks are planned for the afternoon of the conference. Where one centres on BCM for the more matured BCM practitioners of the banking fraternity, the other would centre on industry best practices on various industries namely, hospitality, education and airlines.
